Upon leaving the health insurance industry I decided that it was time to pursue something that I've always thought to be fun and challenging: coding. I'm new to the industry but I'm eager to get started. In my limited time learning the ins and outs of web development I've found that I made the right decision in pursuing a job in development - I love it. While my current coding program doesn't end until December 2019, I'm presently looking for a company to get my career started off with.
